Chapter 1: The Prayers of Paul

Questions:

1. How do the prayers of Paul in Ephesians 1 and 3 apply to modern believers?
2. What impact did praying these prayers have on Kenneth E. Hagin's spiritual growth?
3. How can believers personalize and incorporate these prayers into their daily lives?

Observation:

- The chapter emphasizes the importance of the prayers found in the Book of Ephesians, particularly those at the end of the first and third chapters.
- Kenneth E. Hagin shares his personal experience of praying these prayers for himself and others, which led to significant spiritual growth and revelation.

Interpretation:

- The prayers of Paul are Spirit-anointed and apply to believers today just as they did to the Church at Ephesus.
- Praying these prayers can lead to spiritual growth and deeper understanding of God's Word.

Application:

- How can you incorporate the prayers of Paul into your daily prayer routine?
- What changes do you notice in your spiritual life after consistently praying these prayers?

Summary: This chapter emphasizes the importance of the prayers found in the Book of Ephesians, particularly those at the end of the first and third chapters. These prayers are Spirit-anointed and apply to believers today just as they did to the Church at Ephesus. Kenneth E. Hagin shares his personal experience of praying these prayers for himself and others, which led to significant spiritual growth and revelation.

The prayers of Paul in Ephesians are Spirit-anointed and apply to believers today just as they did to the Church at Ephesus. These prayers are found at the end of the first and third chapters of Ephesians and are essential for spiritual growth and deeper understanding of God's Word. Kenneth E. Hagin emphasizes that praying these prayers can lead to significant spiritual growth and revelation.

In Ephesians 1:16-20, Paul prays for believers to receive the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of God, for their understanding to be enlightened, and to know the hope of God's calling and the riches of His inheritance¹²³. In Ephesians 3:14-19, Paul prays for believers to be strengthened with might by God's Spirit in the inner man, for Christ to dwell in their hearts by faith, and to comprehend the breadth, length, depth, and height of Christ's love.

The importance of prayer in Ephesians is highlighted in various teachings and scriptures. Ephesians 6:18-20 emphasizes the vital importance of prayer in spiritual warfare. Paul urges believers to pray at every opportunity, through every prayer and petition, with all persistence and petition for all the saints⁴. The power represented by the armor of God relates vitally to prayer, and prayer imparts effectiveness to the armor.

Paul's prayers for the Ephesian believers are a powerful reminder of the importance of the Holy Spirit in our lives. He prays for them to be filled with the Spirit and to have a deep understanding of the love of Christ. These prayers serve as a beautiful example of the power and importance of the Holy Spirit in our lives.

Chapter 2: What Is Authority?

Questions:

1. What is the difference between "power" and "authority" in the context of Luke 10:19?
2. How can believers exercise their authority over the devil and his forces?
3. What does it mean to be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might?

Observation:

- The chapter explores the concept of authority, particularly the authority given to believers through Jesus Christ.
- It explains the difference between "power" and "authority" as translated in the King James Version of the Bible.

Interpretation:

- Authority is delegated power, and believers have authority over the devil and his forces.
- Understanding and exercising this authority is crucial for believers.

Application:

- How can you exercise your authority over the devil in your daily life?
- What practical steps can you take to be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might?

Summary: This chapter explores the concept of authority, particularly the authority given to believers through Jesus Christ. It explains the difference between "power" and "authority" as translated in the King James Version of the Bible. The chapter highlights that authority is delegated power and that believers have authority over the devil and his forces.

Certainly! The difference between power and authority is an important concept in understanding spiritual warfare and the believer's role in it.

In the context of spiritual authority, Power refers to the ability or potential to influence others and control their actions. It is the capacity to act or produce an effect. On the other hand, Authority is delegated power. It is the legal and formal right to give orders and commands and take decisions. Authority is vested in believers by Jesus Christ, and it is backed by God's power. For example, a policeman directing traffic has the authority to stop vehicles, not because of their physical power, but because of the authority vested in them by the government¹.

Kenneth E. Hagin explains that the value of our authority rests on the power that is behind that authority. God Himself is the power behind our authority, and the devil and his forces are obliged to recognize our authority. Believers can exercise their authority and face the enemy fearlessly because they know that God's power is backing them¹.

In general terms, Power is the ability to influence or control others, whether or not it is legally or morally right. It can come from different sources like physical strength, money, knowledge, or status. Power can be used positively, like inspiring others, or negatively, like forcing people to obey. It does not always require consent from the people being influenced, and it can sometimes be unstable².

Authority, on the other hand, is the official right to make decisions and enforce rules. It comes from laws, traditions, or widely accepted social norms. Unlike power, authority is recognized by people and tends to be stable. When a person or institution has authority, others generally follow their decisions willingly because they recognize their right to lead or make rules³.

Is there anything else you would like to know about the difference between power and authority or its application in spiritual warfare?

Chapter 3: Seated With Christ

Questions:

1. What does it mean for believers to be seated with Christ in heavenly places?
2. How does Christ's authority extend to the Church?
3. How can believers practically exercise the authority they have in Christ?

Observation:

- This chapter discusses the believer's position in Christ, emphasizing that believers are seated with Christ in heavenly places.
- It explains that Christ's authority is perpetuated through His Body, the Church.

Interpretation:

- Believers share in Christ's authority and are seated with Him in heavenly places.
- Understanding this position is essential for exercising authority.

Application:

- How does knowing you are seated with Christ affect your perspective on spiritual authority?
- In what ways can you practically exercise the authority you have in Christ?

Summary: This chapter discusses the believer's position in Christ, emphasizing that believers are seated with Christ in heavenly places. It explains that Christ's authority is perpetuated through His Body, the Church, and that believers share in this authority. The chapter also highlights the importance of understanding and exercising this authority.

Certainly! The concept of the believer's position in Christ and being seated with Christ in heavenly places is a profound aspect of Christian theology and spiritual authority.

The believer's position as being seated with Christ in heavenly places signifies that believers share in Christ's victory over demonic powers. This position is not just a future promise but a present reality, indicating the believer's current spiritual authority. According to Kenneth E. Hagin's teachings, believers have authority through Christ's resurrection, which means they can exercise this authority in their daily lives to overcome spiritual challenges and demonic influences.

The concept of being seated with Christ is rooted in Ephesians 2:6, which states that God raised us up with Christ and seated us with Him in the heavenly realms. This spiritual resurrection parallels Christ's physical resurrection and signifies the believer's new identity and status in Christ. Being seated with Christ in the heavenly realms indicates a position of authority and victory over sin and spiritual forces. This position empowers believers to live with a heavenly perspective, focusing on eternal realities rather than earthly concerns.

Ephesians 2:6 emphasizes the believer's spiritual resurrection, paralleling Christ's physical resurrection. This concept signifies the believer's new identity and status in Christ. Being seated with Christ in the heavenly realms indicates a position of authority and victory over sin and spiritual forces. Christians are called to live with a heavenly perspective, focusing on eternal realities rather than earthly concerns.

Chapter 4: Breaking the Power of the Devil

Questions:

1. How did Jesus defeat the devil, and what does this mean for believers?
2. What practical steps can believers take to break the power of the devil in their lives?
3. How can believers build their faith to exercise authority over evil spirits?

Observation:

- The chapter focuses on the believer's authority to break the power of the devil.
- It explains that Jesus has already defeated the devil and that believers can reign over evil spirits.

Interpretation:

- Jesus' victory over the devil is a foundational truth for believers.
- Believers have the authority to break the power of the devil in their lives.

Application:

- What steps can you take to break the power of the devil in your life?
- How can you build your faith to exercise authority over evil spirits?

Summary: This chapter focuses on the believer's authority to break the power of the devil. It explains that Jesus has already defeated the devil and that believers can reign over evil spirits. The chapter also discusses the importance of understanding and exercising this authority in daily life.

Certainly! The concept of the Believer's Authority to break the power of the Devil is a central theme in spiritual warfare and Christian living.

The authority that believers have in Christ is rooted in the victory of Jesus over the devil. According to Kenneth E. Hagin's teachings, Jesus has already defeated the devil, and this victory is a foundational truth for believers¹. This means that believers have the authority to break the power of the devil in their lives. This authority is not just theoretical but practical, and it can be exercised through faith and understanding of God's Word.

Believers are encouraged to build their faith by meditating on scriptures that affirm their authority over the devil. This involves understanding that all power has been given to Jesus in heaven and on earth, and this authority is conferred to the Church, which is His Body¹. Therefore, believers can exercise this authority to resist and overcome the devil's attacks in their lives.

Kenneth E. Hagin's teachings also emphasize that believers have God-given authority to rebuke and cast out demon spirits. This authority is based on the victory of Jesus Christ over demonic powers, as stated in Colossians 2:15, which says that Jesus disarmed the powers and authorities and made a public spectacle of them, triumphing over them by the cross². Believers are encouraged to exercise this authority through prayer, proclamation of God's promises, and living out their faith in accordance with biblical principles.

The authority that believers have is not limited to their own lives but extends to their families as well. However, it is important to note that believers do not have authority over human wills. This means that while they can rebuke and cast out demon spirits, they must respect the free will of other individuals.

Chapter 5: Exercising Authority

Questions:

1. What does it mean to be seated with Christ above all powers in Satan's realm?
2. How can believers exercise their authority to conquer the devil?
3. What role do the prayers in Ephesians play in exercising authority?

Observation:

- This chapter emphasizes the importance of exercising the authority that believers have in Christ.
- It explains that believers are seated with Christ above all powers in Satan's realm.

Interpretation:

- Believers have been given authority through Christ and are expected to exercise it.
- Meditating on and praying the prayers found in Ephesians can help believers exercise their authority.

Application:

- How can you incorporate the prayers in Ephesians into your daily routine to strengthen your authority?
- What practical steps can you take to exercise your authority over the devil?

Summary: This chapter emphasizes the importance of exercising the authority that believers have in Christ. It explains that believers are seated with Christ above all powers in Satan's realm and that they have the authority to conquer the devil. The chapter also discusses the importance of meditating on and praying the prayers found in Ephesians.

Certainly! The importance of exercising the authority that believers have in Christ is a central theme in spiritual growth and victory.

Exercising the authority that believers have in Christ is crucial for several reasons:

1. Victory Over the Devil: Believers have authority over the devil and his forces because Jesus has already defeated him. This authority allows believers to resist and overcome the devil's attacks in their lives¹.

2. Spiritual Growth: Understanding and exercising this authority leads to significant spiritual growth and deeper revelation of God's Word. It empowers believers to live victoriously and fulfill their God-given purpose¹.
3. Protection and Defense: By exercising their authority, believers can protect themselves and their families from demonic influences. This authority is a defense against the enemy's schemes and attacks¹.
4. Empowerment: Believers are empowered to carry out God's work on earth. This authority is not just a theoretical concept but a practical reality that can transform lives and circumstances¹.

The importance of exercising the authority that believers have in Christ is also emphasized in various teachings and scriptures:

1. Living a Victorious Life: Understanding and exercising this authority helps believers live the life that Jesus called them to live. It enables them to overcome challenges and difficulties, ensuring they come out victoriously in life².
2. Prayer and Proclamation: Exercising authority involves prayer and proclaiming God's promises. Faith-filled prayer can move mountains and invoke God's power in various circumstances³.
3. Identity in Christ: Recognizing their identity in Christ is essential for believers. As new creations, they are empowered by the Holy Spirit to live victoriously and fulfill their God-given purpose³.
4. Spiritual Authority: Believers are called to exercise personal authority in their spiritual lives, guided by the Holy Spirit. This involves discerning truth, making moral decisions, and living out one's faith in accordance with biblical principles⁴.

Chapter 6: Risen With Christ

Questions:

1. What does it mean for believers to be risen with Christ?
2. How does Christ's victory over demonic powers extend to believers?
3. How can believers practically exercise the authority they have through Christ's resurrection?

Observation:

- This chapter discusses the believer's position as being risen with Christ.
- It explains that believers share in Christ's victory over demonic powers.

Interpretation:

- Believers have authority through Christ's resurrection.
- Understanding and exercising this authority is crucial for spiritual victory.

Application:

- How does knowing you are risen with Christ impact your spiritual life?
- In what ways can you practically exercise the authority you have through Christ's resurrection?

Summary: This chapter discusses the believer's position as being risen with Christ. It explains that believers share in Christ's victory over demonic powers and that they have authority through His resurrection. The chapter also highlights the importance of understanding and exercising this authority.

The believer's position as being risen with Christ signifies that believers share in Christ's victory over demonic powers. This position is not just a future promise but a present reality, indicating the believer's current spiritual authority. According to Kenneth E. Hagin's teachings, believers have authority through Christ's resurrection, which means they can exercise this authority in their daily lives to overcome spiritual challenges and demonic influences.

The concept of being risen with Christ is rooted in Ephesians 2:6, which states that God raised us up with Christ and seated us with Him in the heavenly realms. This spiritual resurrection parallels Christ's physical resurrection and signifies the believer's new identity and status in Christ. Being seated with Christ in the heavenly realms indicates a position of authority and victory over sin and spiritual forces. This position empowers believers to live with a heavenly perspective, focusing on eternal realities rather than earthly concerns.

Chapter 7: The Armor of God

Questions:

1. What are the different parts of the armor of God, and what do they represent?
2. How can believers put on the whole armor of God in their daily lives?
3. What does it mean to be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might?

Observation:

- This chapter emphasizes the importance of putting on the whole armor of God to stand against the wiles of the devil.
- It explains the different parts of the armor and their significance in spiritual warfare.

Interpretation:

- The armor of God is essential for spiritual protection and victory.
- Each part of the armor represents a spiritual truth that believers need to embrace.

Application:

- How can you put on the whole armor of God in your daily life?
- What does it mean to be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might?

Summary: This chapter emphasizes the importance of putting on the whole armor of God to stand against the wiles of the devil. It explains the different parts of the armor and their significance in spiritual warfare. The chapter also discusses the importance of being strong in the Lord and in the power of His might.

The whole armor of God is essential for spiritual protection and victory. Each part of the armor represents a spiritual truth that believers need to embrace:

1. Belt of Truth: This represents the truth of God's Word, which grounds believers and reminds them of their identity in Christ. It is the foundation that holds all other pieces of the armor together.
2. Breastplate of Righteousness: This signifies the righteousness that comes from faith in Jesus Christ. It protects the heart and soul from the attacks of the enemy.
3. Shoes of the Gospel of Peace: These symbolize the readiness to spread the gospel of peace. They provide stability and readiness to face spiritual battles.

4. Shield of Faith: This represents faith in God, which can extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one. It is a defense against doubt and fear.
5. Helmet of Salvation: This signifies the assurance of salvation, protecting the mind from negative thoughts and doubts.
6. Sword of the Spirit: This is the Word of God, which is a powerful weapon against the enemy. It is used to counter lies and deception with truth.

The armor of God is an illustration in the Bible that reminds Christians about the reality of spiritual battle and describes the protection available to them. Each piece of armor has a distinct purpose and means of defense against temptation and evil:

1. Belt of Truth: A soldier is only ready for battle when he is girded with his belt. Truth grounds believers and reminds them of their identity in Christ.
2. Breastplate of Righteousness: This protects the heart and soul from the attacks of the enemy. It signifies the righteousness that comes from faith in Jesus Christ.
3. Shoes of the Gospel of Peace: These provide stability and readiness to face spiritual battles. They symbolize the readiness to spread the gospel of peace.
4. Shield of Faith: This is a defense against doubt and fear. It represents faith in God, which can extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one.
5. Helmet of Salvation: This protects the mind from negative thoughts and doubts. It signifies the assurance of salvation.
6. Sword of the Spirit: This is the Word of God, which is a powerful weapon against the enemy. It is used to counter lies and deception with truth.

Chapter 8: Authority Over Demon Spirits, Not Human Wills

Questions:

1. What is the difference between having authority over demon spirits and human wills?
2. How can believers exercise authority over demons in their own lives and their family's lives?
3. What should believers do when others do not want to be free from demonic influence?

Observation:

- This chapter discusses the believer's authority over demon spirits but not over human wills.
- It explains that believers can control demons in their own lives and their family's lives but not in others' lives unless those people want to be free.

Interpretation:

- Believers have authority over demon spirits but must respect human free will.
- Understanding the limits of this authority is important for effective spiritual warfare.

Application:

- How can you exercise authority over demons in your own life and your family's lives?
- What should you do when others do not want to be free from demonic influence?

Summary: This chapter discusses the Believer's Authority over demon spirits but not over human wills. It explains that believers can control demons as far as their own lives and their family's lives are concerned, but they cannot control demons in other people's lives unless those people want to be free. The chapter also highlights the importance of understanding and exercising this authority.

The Believer's Authority over demon spirits is a significant aspect of spiritual warfare. According to the document, believers have the authority to control demons in their own lives and their family's lives, but they do not have authority over human wills. This means that while believers can rebuke and cast out demon spirits, they must respect the free will of other individuals. If someone does not want to be free from demonic influence, believers cannot force them to be free.

Kenneth E. Hagin's teachings on the Believer's Authority emphasize that believers have God-given authority to rebuke and cast out demon spirits but must respect human free will. This authority is rooted in the victory of Jesus Christ over demonic powers, and believers can exercise this authority in their own lives and their family's lives. However, when it comes to other individuals, their free will must be respected, and believers cannot control demons in their lives unless those individuals want to be.
